

NEW MAGAZINE

SIXTEEN BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED PAGES.

Numerous and Brilliant Pictures in Colors.

THE Sunday Magazine of The Republic will appear in a new form next Sunday. The issue of that day will have as one of its parts a complete magazine of the shape of Harper's, Leslie's, Collier's, the Saturday Evening Post and similar periodicals. IT WILL BE PRINTED ON HIGH-GRADE, EXPENSIVE PAPER AND WILL BE PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED, EIGHT OF THE PAGES BEING PRINTED IN COLORS.

This Magazine will mark a new epoch in journalism. Nothing of such quality has ever before been presented with a Sunday newspaper, as it will combine the attractions of several beautiful colored pictures with the ordinary features of the high-class Magazine selling at 10 cents a copy. The Republic's Sunday Magazine will be a regular part of the Sunday paper, however, and the price of the big Sunday issue will not be increased.

Great writers and great artists, among the most noted of the contributors to American magazines and illustrated publications, have shared in making a notable number of the first issue of this new Sunday Magazine. The most expensive and perfect kind of color printing machinery has been employed to assure typographical excellence.

Novelty and originality characterize this new Magazine. The first page of the cover is a beautiful ideal head in bright, Oriental colors by the well-known portrait painter, A. M. Turner. This is a complete picture, unmarred by title lines or other lettering, so that it is available for framing and entirely worthy of permanent preservation. It is as charming as any picture ever given to newspaper readers.

Another picture souvenir suitable for framing is a two-page illustration in colors of Wagner's Parsifal, which is to be produced at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York on Christmas Eve, after a long legal battle. This is a picture 14x20 inches in size, striking and original in its characteristics.

There are two more full-page pictures in colors, both by artists of note, making four large pictures in a single issue. One is a child's picture, fit for the nursery wall, by Henry Ihlefeld, and the other a humorous scene in the Arctic Regions, by Frank Verbeck.

A new artist, Sigurd Schou, gives a fashion picture in colors that is a good deal above the grade of a fashion plate. His girls and their gowns belong in the same class and are likely to become as famous as the social cartoons of Gibson and the exquisite feminine types created by Wenzell, Christy and Harrison Fisher.

An indication of the notable nature of this publication is furnished by the fact that the leading piece of fiction is a story by Jack London, who has recently made a phenomenal reputation in his story "The Call of the Wild." Mr. London has written for this Magazine one of the most striking of short stories, receiving for it one of the highest prices paid to new writers for a long time past.

A famous ballad, which the public will remember as long as "Little Breeches" or "The Heathen Chinee," has been written for the Magazine by the Klondike Balladist, Howard V. Sutherland.

A tale of two burglars who were defended by Senator Spooner in the early career of that distinguished statesman, and who subsequently refused to rob his house when they discovered that they were in it, is retold through the clever pen of Walter Wellman.

A curious fad which has developed in Europe, and threatens to sweep over the United States, for dressing the boys in ornate knickerbockers, lace cuffs and silver buckles, is shown in a colored picture and in a humorous article by I. S. Grim.

Speaker Cannon, who is rapidly rising to the same unique distinction that was enjoyed by the late Speaker Reed, is caricatured in a memorable way by Hy. Mayer.

No expense has been spared in producing this magazine, nor will any expense be spared in the future. It is intended that it shall rank with the prominent illustrated papers that separately sell for more each week than the entire mammoth issue of the Sunday St. Louis Republic.

Considering that this publication reaches the readers of The St. Louis Republic without additional cost, the proposition becomes the most unique in journalistic history.

CLERGYMAN SCORES ENGLISH SCHOOLS.

Taxation for Denominational Institutions Is Unjust Says Doctor Lunn.

TIME FOR INSURRECTION.

Famous Dissenter With Many Others Refuses to Pay Part of the Tax Levied for Education.

"The manner in which the common schools of England are conducted shows that English-speaking people are still capable of tyranny," said Doctor Henry S. Lunn of London yesterday morning to the St. Louis Evangelical Alliance.

The expression opened an address upon "The Educational Problem of England," which greatly interested the ministers and prompted them to tender a vote of thanks to the speaker after he had finished.

Doctor Lunn, with Lord Lyveden, is in St. Louis arranging for a visit of parliamentarians to the World's Fair next year. He is the leader of many reforms in England, and the Executive Committee of the Alliance, knowing his prominence in the agitation of the educational question abroad, invited him to deliver the address.

Doctor Lunn stated that he was not a bitter opponent of the Church of England, but was rather inclined to it. He could not help seeing its defects, he said, and summed up the educational question as follows:

"An act passed by Parliament last year providing for the taxation of the people at the bottom of the denominational schools is a gross injustice to the people of England. Many persons have to pay to have their children taught doctrine they themselves do not believe, and each day bitterness against the Church of England is augmented."

If Women Only Knew

What a Heap of Happiness It Would Bring to St. Louis Homes.

Hard to do housework with an aching back? Hours of misery at leisure or at work? If women only knew the cause, backache pains come from sick kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure it. St. Louis people endorse this.

Mrs. A. C. Groves of 146 North Tenth street says: "During the six or seven months my back ached I used at least a dozen standard remedies, guaranteed to cure kidney complaint or backache, which comes from it. If the first dose of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wolff-Wilson's, corner Sixth street and Washington avenue, had not helped me promptly and genuinely I never would have gone back for a second, half of which I still have in the house, for I found it unnecessary to take the whole of the box. Since I completed the treatment there has not been a symptom of backache. My mother has also used Doan's Kidney Pills, with just as positive benefits as I."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

BISHOP'S FRIENDS THROGGLED STATION.

The Most Reverend J. J. Hartly Departed for Manila Under Happy Conditions.

PRELATE DISLIKED TO LEAVE.

Parishioners and Fellow Churchmen Remained Until Train Bore Former Pastor Out of Sight.

Amid the cheers of several hundred of his parishioners and friends, Archbishop J. J. Hartly of Manila departed last night at 10:30 o'clock for San Francisco, on his way to his work in the Philippines.

Archbishop Hartly was accompanied by Mr. Fowler, his secretary, who will go with him to Manila, and by Father McGlynn of St. Rose's Parish and Father McGlynn of St. Margaret's. The last two will accompany him as far as Kansas City.

Long before train time the Archbishop's parishioners poured into the station. Priests of other parishes were numerous. About 10 o'clock, Archbishop Hartly arrived, accompanied by Monsignor Fowler and the Reverend Fathers Gavin, Delaney, O'Brien of St. Louis, and Father McGlynn. He was greeted by cheers. His parishioners wished him "good luck" and a "Merry Christmas and happy New Year."

When the train pulled out Archbishop Hartly with tears in his eyes said a last goodbye. There were few dry eyes in the crowd.

Archbishop Hartly was heartbroken to leave St. Louis, said Father Lord of St. Leo's. "The voice of God calling him and his love for duty made it possible for him to depart from his beloved parish and from friends toward whom he bears the love of a father."

Among the station were the Reverend Fathers Casey, Gilligan, Godfrey, Edward Casey, W. H. Muson, president of Kenrick Seminary; Knadler, Delaney, McKeown, Dempsey and Layney. The Archbishop will sail from San Francisco on December 12 for Manila, China for Hong-Kong. He will arrive in Manila about the middle of January.

On the way to San Francisco he will stop at Kansas City, Wichita, Santa Fe and Los Angeles. At these places he will visit persons, friends who wish to pay to him a tribute of their esteem before his departure. All day yesterday throngs of friends and parishioners crowded the lawn in front of St. Leo's parochial residence. There was a constant stream of visitors coming to the house from early in the morning until time for leaving for Union Station.

Archbishop Hartly officiated at his last mass at St. Leo's at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. An immense audience filled the church. He thanked God for all the blessings he had received during the twenty-five happy years of his priesthood in St. Louis, his native city.

TRIES TO HOLD UP WOMAN.

Mrs. Markman Grapples With Youth Until Policeman Arrives.

Wilfred Stewart, 17 years old, attempted to hold up Mrs. Rosie Markman, in her secondhand store, No. 212 North Fourteenth street, last night with a revolver which he had asked to examine.

Mrs. Markman seized the youth and struggled with him until the arrival of Patrolman Byrne of the Central District.

Stewart asked to inspect a revolver which he said he wished to purchase. When Mrs. Markman had placed a weapon in his hands he asked for a cartridge to fit into the cylinder. When the revolver was loaded he pointed it at Mrs. Markman's head and demanded her money.

Mrs. Markman grappled Stewart and holding his arm to prevent the discharge of the weapon, screamed for help.

Stewart says he lives at Camp, No. 31, in St. Louis County. He denies that he intended to rob Mrs. Markman. The police will ask a warrant charging Stewart with attempted robbery.

STRUCK BY STRAY BULLET. Private Watchman Theodore Eckhart Sustains Slight Wound.

In arresting James Griffith, charged with firing a shot at Conductor F. Fitch of the Fourth Street Line, yesterday afternoon, Patrolman Sickling's revolver was discharged, and the bullet struck Private Watchman Theodore Eckhart, who was standing near.

Eckhart's wound in the hip was dressed at the City Dispensary. His condition is not serious. Griffith was taken to the Chestnut Street Station, where he will be held pending the issuance of a warrant.

Griffith's fight with the conductor is said to have been precipitated by the latter's use of profane language on the car. Conductor Fitch ejected Griffith and the latter fired a shot. It is said, Patrolman Sickling arrested Griffith at his home, No. 1112 South Tenth street.

WAGE REDUCTION AFFECTS 64,000.

Other New England Cotton Mills Operatives Yet to Be Included in Cut Will Swell Total to 75,000.

DAMAGE AWARDS SET ASIDE.

New Commissioners to Be Appointed in Leduc Street Opening.

Circuit Judge Blevins yesterday set aside the report of the Commissioners appointed to assess the damages in the opening of Leduc street, from Marcus avenue to Euclid avenue, and announced that he would appoint another set of Commissioners.

The proposed street is to be 50 feet wide. The Commissioners valued the land to be taken at $10,000.25. The valuation was without reference to projected improvement and actual damage to property.

The property to be taken was to be paid for by assessing $1 against the city and the rest against the property within a district, established by the Commissioners, held to be benefited by the proposed improvement.

Several of the property owners filed exceptions to the awards of the Commissioners, and the matter was tried in Judge Blevins's court.

Found Dead in Bed. Gustave Knobbe, 6 years old, was found dead in his room, No. 310 Cedar street, yesterday evening. Under the bed was found an empty bottle that had contained carbolic acid. The body was removed to the morgue. Knobbe had no relatives in St. Louis.

BURNS MAY PROVE FATAL. Baby's Clothing Catches Fire While Playing With Matches.

While playing with matches at her home, No. 508 East Gano avenue, yesterday morning, Emma Vogt, 3 years old, was badly burned, and death may result from the burns.

The child sat on the floor and picked up some matches that had been dropped. Striking one against a chair she held it to her dress, and it was ignited. The child's screams attracted Mrs. Ballard, who lives in the flat below. Mrs. Ballard ran up the stairs, and was horrified to find the baby enveloped in flames. With her apron Mrs. Ballard beat out the flames and then summoned a physician.
